Student Life & Achievements 12

The 80's: A New Dimension

The 80's at UHS will be a time of change. A new school, hopefully, a more involved student body and better student teacher relations will all affect the student at UHS. Changes during the 70's have included the revision of the hair code, split lunch hours, a winning newspaper and improved conditions for student activities.

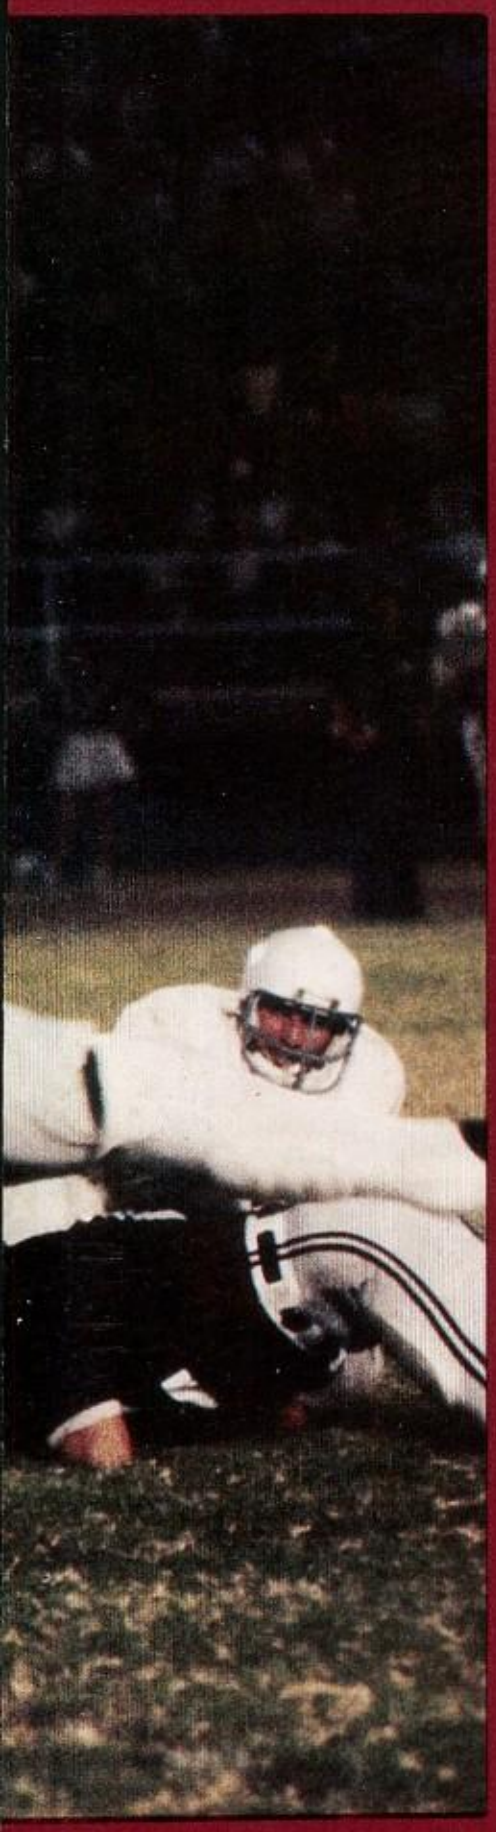
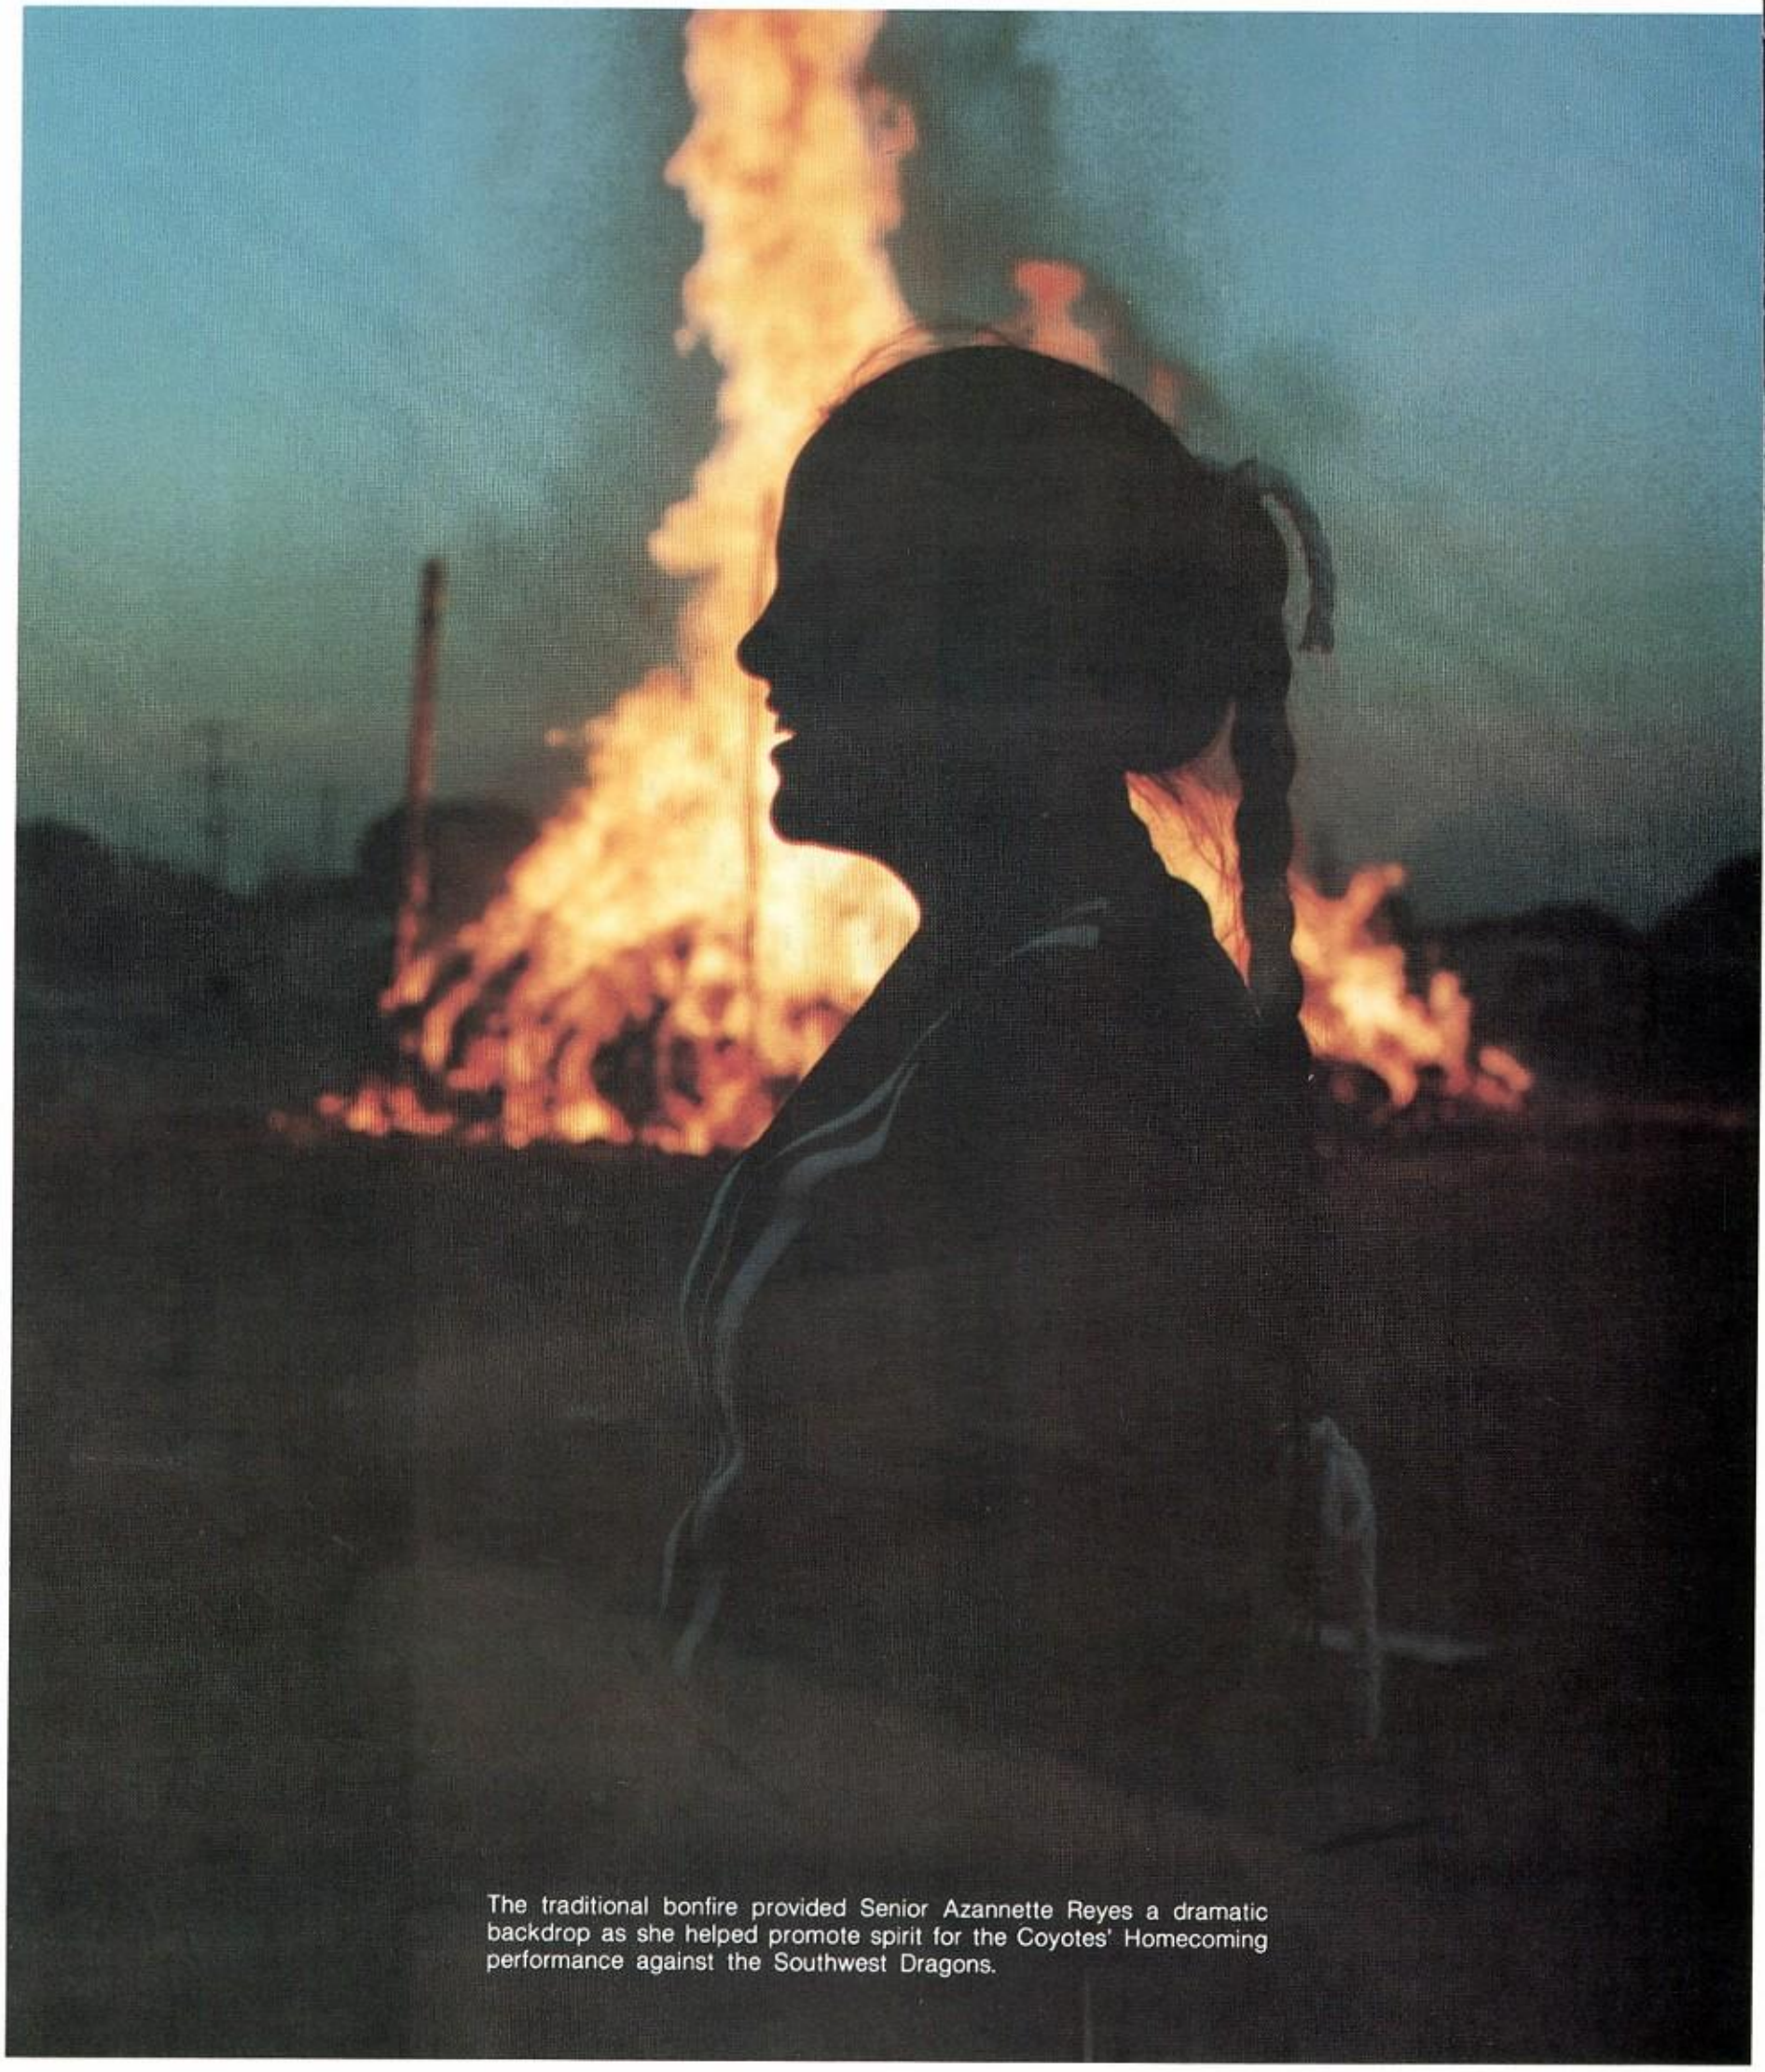
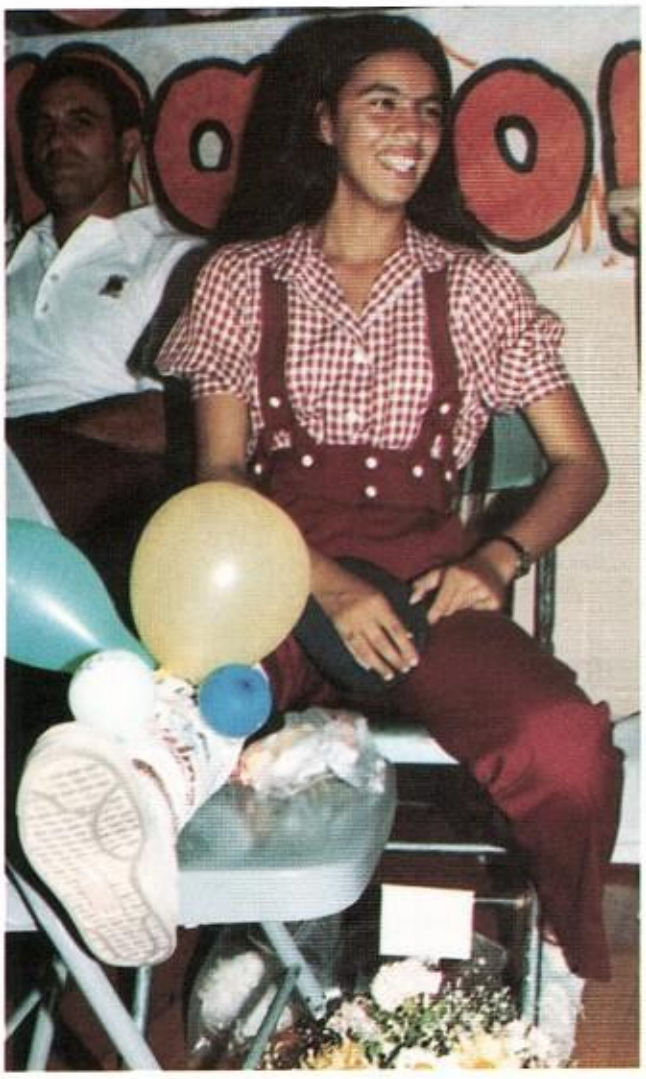
Friday Night . . .

Lights, camera, action! Friday night at UHS includes the involvement of everyone! Busting through the line, dancing to the beat and twirling before the crowd keep everyone intensely involved. Frank Gonzales escaped another Southwest tackler. Highstepper Dana Connell electrifies the crowd while Diana Koenning and Lisa Raines perform another routine.





The traditional bonfire provided Senior Azannette Reyes a dramatic backdrop as she helped promote spirit for the Coyotes' Homecoming performance against the Southwest Dragons.



The Individual:
The Lifeblood of UHS

Without the individual, a school could not exist. Everyone at Uvalde High serves as a link to connect the school together; to make it one. The students and the faculty combine to make a more enjoyable atmosphere for both. For they serve as a friend to each other, a companion and a source of knowledge. This is what makes UHS as it is today.

Left: Although detained by a broken leg, Irene Ibarra still supports the Coyotes at a pep rally. Below: Will and determination are what kept Randy Brunnemann from being upset over a pass.

Duchesses Presented at Homecoming Festivities

Homecoming activities climaxed at the half-time of the Uvalde-Southwest football game, as Lisa Emmert, Student Council vice president, crowned Cindy Morales Homecoming Queen for 1979. Each class at UHS voted for one girl to represent its class at the Homecoming festivities. Out of the three girls that received the majority of the votes in the senior class, the top two were voted on again, with Cindy Morales gaining the title of Homecoming Queen and Arlene Riley that of Homecoming Princess.

Tradition was carried out as the royalty was driven around the field of the Honey Bowl in convertibles and T-tops. Jeff Perkins and Pat Buesing served as Masters of Ceremonies. Sean Laffere, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bo Laffere, was the crown bearer, and Chris Calk carried the flowers.

After the coronation, the royalty was seated on the dais, and enjoyed the completion of the football game. After the game, the annual Homecoming Dance was held by the Sophomore Class of the Civic Center.

Student Life

Student Life not only involves academics but also extra curricular activities. Within these four years, we begin to mature, shaping ourselves around our experiences, and becoming a more unique part of this strange, super-sophisticated world.

The real test comes when we are faced with new challenges and problems and are forced to do things that are not easy to do.

As days pass, personalities become distinct and individuals result. May each and everyone of us gain the knowledge we need to get us as close as we can to our goals in life, and even more important, how to use that knowledge.

After all—"Success Is A Journey, Not A Destination."

This Is Only The Beginning

A week before school started 1,250 students sauntered up to Uvalde High to register for classes. Registration, as always, was the usual chaotic gathering of students obtaining and comparing schedules, teachers and classes.

Seniors registered first, a priviledge granted to them for being upperclassmen, followed by juniors and sophomores. Although returning for classes was not new to most students, nervousness and confusion was still present, maybe even more than with freshman because most did not know what to expect.

Coach Ferrara looks on.

What is life without . . .

. . . Friends?

Cupid Makes His Move

Sports Banquet recognizes athletes

Texas A & M Head Football Coach Tom Wilson stressed self-motivation and attitude at the Fourth Annual Uvalde All-Sports Banquet held in the Uvalde Civic Center.

"Somewhere deep down inside of you, when you take on a task, unless you really want to yourself, you'll never get the job done," said Wilson. "The best type of motivation is the kind that compels a man to do his very best when no one else is around."

Coach Wilson referred to the late Vince Lombardi, as one of the best motivators ever.

"Lombardi summed it up best when he said, 'Winning is not everything, but the effort that goes into winning is.'"

Howard Langford was the Master of Ceremonies and gave a speech thanking the athletes and introduced special guests.

Athletic Director John Ferrara presented the "Coach of the Year" awards to the athletes' parents, while Coach Joe Townsend announced the top athletes of the season.

AWARD WINNERS:

Journalists and Artists promote Creativity

The journalism department experienced the leadership of not one but two sponsors. Mrs. Sue Jones started the year, teaching the essentials of producing quality material to the newspaper and annual staffs. In December, Mrs. Jones moved from Uvalde, to Starkville, Mississippi. As classes resumed after the Christmas holidays, Mr. Dan Chaney took over the role of Journalism sponsor, helping the staff cover events and meet deadlines.

Foreign languages Broaden education

The foreign languages offered at UHS include Latin, Spanish and French. In any of these classes students acquire an interest in and a basic knowledge and culture of that language and will receive a glimpse of its effect on our times. Teachers use stories, discussions, pictures, filmstrips, movies and an abundance of books during the year to arouse and maintain interest in the culture of that language.

Mathematics challenges students

Math courses at UHS include Fundamentals of Math, Introductory Algebra, Algebra, Consumer Math, Geometry, Trigonometry and Elementary Analysis. Fundamentals of Math teaches the mathematical skills and concepts necessary for individuals to function in our society. Introductory Algebra consists of an informal, but logical development of the basic theory and structure of Algebra as an extension of basic arithmetic. Algebra covers the language of Algebra, linear open sentences, polyomials, rational expressions, irrational expressions, and quadratic equations. Consumer mathematics assists individuals to be better buyers, to make more effective purchases and to manage personal income more efficiently. Geometry is the study of plan and space figures, and their relationships. Trigonometry covers topics in circular functions, inverses of circular functions, numerical trigonometry, vectors, and complex numbers.

Striving for improvement with mastery of skills

Developmental Services is designed for students who are reading or writing at or below their expectancy levels. These services focus on elevating the level of competency with which the students perform specific skills.

The instructors determine each student's abilities, disabilities and expectancies, and they then determine which of the skills needed to be taught, the extent to which they must be taught, the level of sophistication on which they should be taught, and the order in which they should be taught.

At the outset of each year, the librarians explain to all ninth graders the various facets of the library's operation. They accomplish this goal by having English teachers bring freshman classes. During the year, eleventh and twelfth graders complete research paper topics, and these students begin to realize the wealth of material the library possesses. All three ladies may bemoan having to shelve tables of secondary sources, but they also see tangible results exemplified by the students' work. The library also serves as a central location for combined classes viewing films or other audio visual material. And many students take advantage of the numerous magazines and periodicals by arriving during off periods or lunch periods.

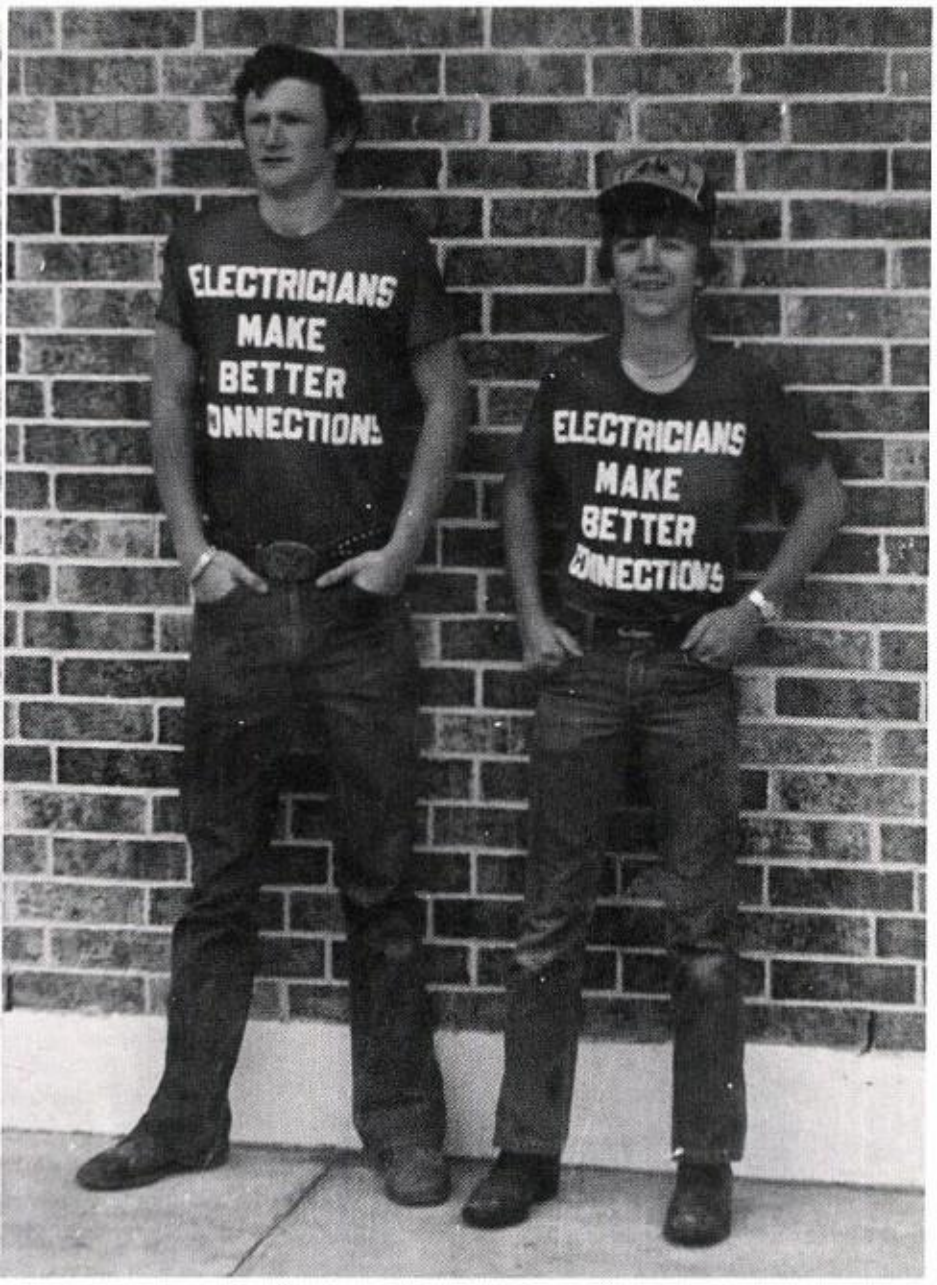
ELECTRICAL TRADES



Electricians Make Better Connections

The Electrical Trades Club is a group of students who are enrolled in electrical trades classes at Uvalde High School. These students learn by doing and are very helpful when electrical problems do arise on the UHS campus. Members also provide assistance, when possible, with installing proper electrical equipment in portable buildings at various other schools within the UCISD.

From framing to . . .

Building Trades' primary function is to learn the various aspects of general construction. These students also apply skills and experience by doing. The major undertaking each year is the construction of a building, and this year the students constructed a portable building that will be used at Robb Elementary School.

Throughout the year, the students also repaired various buildings in the Uvalde Consolidated Independent School District.

Instructor for these members is John Fox.

The Junior Classical League's primary purpose is to promote the study of Latin. The JCL promotes interest in the study of the Greek and Roman language, culture and literature.

Several activities are held each year to keep the members of the largest Latin club in Texas busy.

The annual candy sale, participation in the Homecoming and Opera House inauguration parades, a booth at the Halloween Carnival, the Bike-a-Thon for the Multiple Sclerosis Foundation, the selling of Saint Nick Snacks, the Roman Banquet, and the annual picnic held at the Newton Ranch all add to their enjoyment.

'Club of the year'

At the State Convention in Austin March 14 and 15, Uvalde's Junior Classical League was named Texas' "Outstanding Latin Club of the Year."

During the presentation of awards, Club sponsor Mrs. India Newton was honored by having a scholarship presented in her name. The $500.00 scholarship will aid Latin students who attend college on a yearly basis.

Prior to the State convention, the club's members also won first place at area B convention held at John Jay High School in San Antonio.

In April, the club held its annual Roman banquet, the theme of which was "Hades." During the banquet, the traditional slave march, mixing of the wines (Delaware punch), and slave sales kept the lounging upper classmen and other audience members entertained until the upper class performed "Hades," a play written by Jed Williams, former JCL president. Special guest was Mrs. Doris Kays, sponsor of the MacArthur Junior Classical League, who inducted the new officers.

In May, the JCL hosted the State executive Board Committee meeting at the Newton's ranch near Montell.

DECA Benefits the Community

Distributive Education provides a source of well trained and qualified future employees. The club trains young people in business organizations to meet their job specifications. Its members strive to establish good community relations, allowing the businessmen the opportunity to cooperate with the school in public education. Most of all, the club establishes a link between business, home and school, thereby allowing businessmen an influential voice in school affairs.

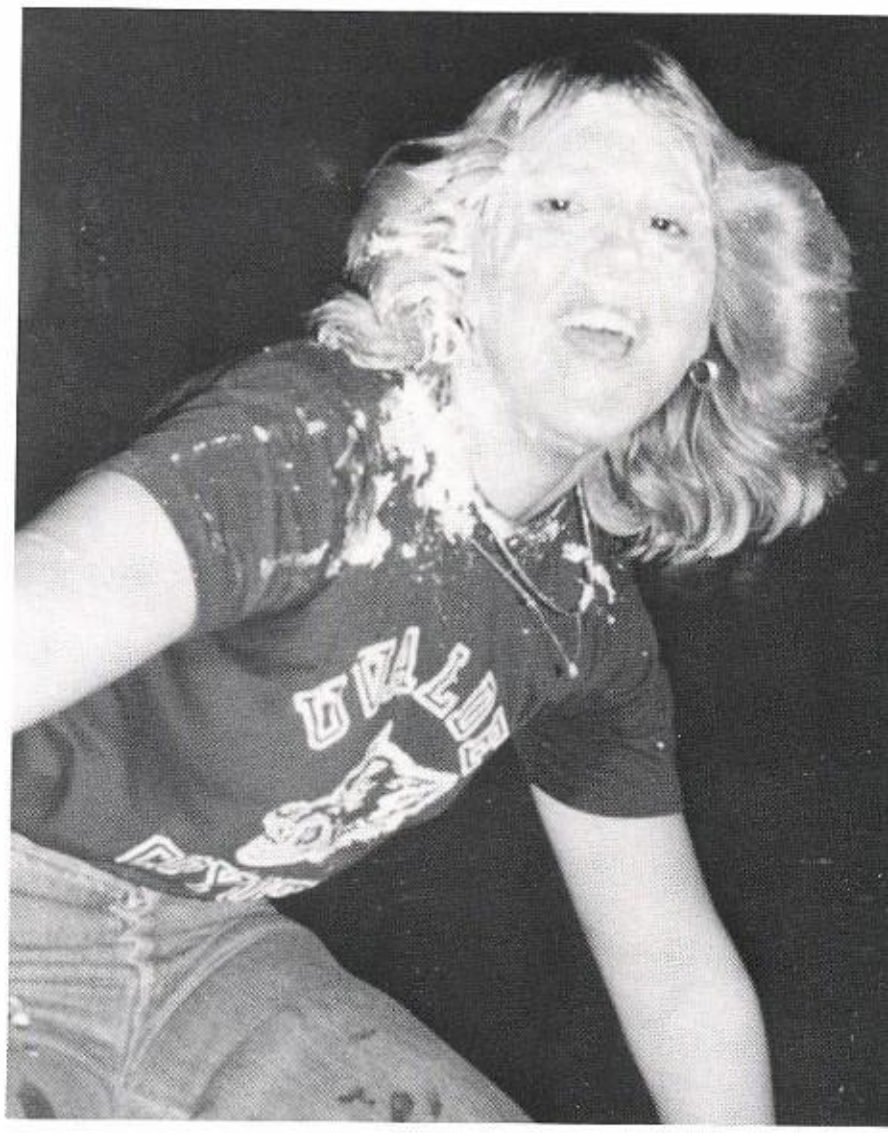
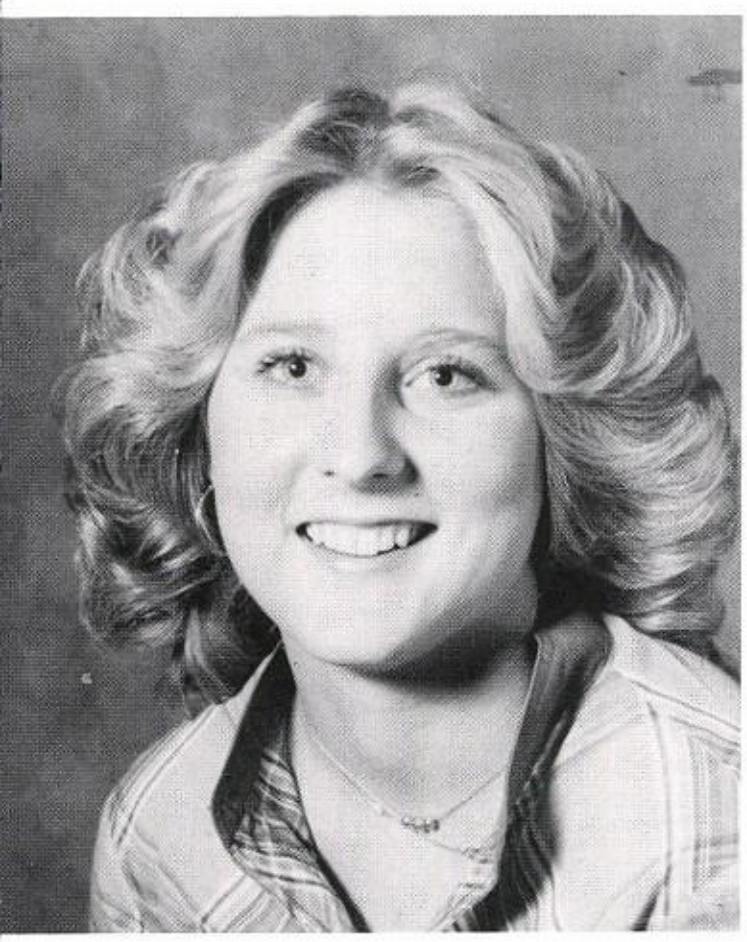
Key Club aids restoration

Recouping from last year, the Key Club was an integral part of the extracurricular activities this year. Under the sponsorship of William E. Kolinek and Wallace Koenning, the club participated in the Homecoming parade, the Halloween carnival and a bowling tournament with the Kiwanis Club.

Primarily as a community service organization, the Key Club was instrumental in the cleaning of the Grand Opera House. With dust masks, shovels and other implements, the members moved and stored documents that dated before and through the early 1920's. The club also participated in the Opera House Restoration Parade. During the Cactus Jack Festival activities in June, the Key Club gave tours of the Opera House, which had just completed phase one of the three-phase restoration. The proceeds of the tours went to the Opera House Restoration Fund.

On the district level, Uvalde placed in the top ten in District V, which includes mainly 4-A schools. Uvalde's participation in the district activities enabled the district to place first at the Oklahoma-Texas District Convention in Houston. James Jonas, District V's lieutenant governor, also was named the best lieutenant governor of any district in the Oklahoma-Texas District.





Meeting every Wednesday night, the club held a workshop for new officers, discussed and observed the plans for the new high school, held business meetings, heard informative speakers, and planned the participation in the various community projects.

Fund raising projects held throughout the year included a candy sale and the selling of Coyote notebooks. The money raised was used to pay the debt incurred by previous Key Clubs at UHS.

Elected during November, Melody Hargrove served as club sweetheart for 1979-1980. Student leaders of the club included Jeff Perkins, President; Don McLaughlin, Vice President; Brian Zimmermann, Secretary; Ed Harrison, Treasurer; Todd Boales, Dwain Duncan, and Arlene Riley, Board members.

Several activities held throughout the year include the annual installation of officers, "Taco Booth" at the Halloween carnival, Christmas party held at the Cactus Jack room, annual club trip to San Antonio, and the revision of the constitution by several members and officers. The club also donated $100.00 to El Progreso Library in order for them to purchase Spanish books that will be used there.

The Junior Historians are a group of students that study Texas and American History. Major projects of the group include attending museums and exhibits throughout the state and listening to guest lecturers. In order to make money to attend these functions, they sold candy and also sponsored a Walk-a-Thon held in April.

Jr. Historians hear Mrs. Bailey

As one of the many activities the Junior Historians had, Mrs. Billie Bailey gave some of her time to speak to the members and the sponsors on many aspects of the renovation of historical Fort Inge.

Another activity was the annual trip to San Antonio. Club members enjoyed shopping and eating.

Sponsors of the club are Mrs. Mary Langner and Mrs. Janie Clifton.

Medistats Collect for Easter Seals

During the Easter Seals Telethon conducted March 22-23, the club raised $1,336 by manning telephones at Uvalde radio station KVOU and at KSAT-TV in San Antonio and by selling chocolate-walnut Easter Eggs.

This year's sweetheart was Brookkii Wootton.

Medistats Volunteer Services

The Medistats, whose interests are of medical science or the fields pertaining to medicine, strive to learn about each field they may be interested in by viewing and participating in lectures, films and trips to several hospitals.

Not only do they have fun, but also they work hard in keeping their traditional Easter Seals' telethon as their main activity. Their sponsor for the 1979-1980 school year is Mrs. Leona Wootton.

F.F.A. involved In various State-wide activities

Seeking better use of agricultural skills is the aim of the Uvalde chapter of the Future Farmers of America.

Not only do members of the FFA learn, but also they compete to earn many fine awards in stock shows and rodeos.

Other activities include the FFA banquet, fruit sales and judging contests.

James Mogford and Lloyd Cook sponsored the club for the 1979-1980 school year.

Roping and riding Into the eighties!

Two of Uvalde's top competitors included Nancy Buttler and Danny Haby, both of whom competed in the Texas High School Rodeo Association in Seguin this summer. Reaching these finals entailed that both Nancy and Danny accumulate enough overall points in four qualifying shows held this spring.

Although the Rodeo Club's annual rodeo was rained out, members did participate in the Region IV Rodeo in April. Nancy placed sixth in the pole bending and eighth in barrels; Danny finished first in steer wrestling and ninth in tie down roping. Other club participants who placed included Shannon Turner, and Amanda Robinson. Shannon won first place in the barrels and second place in pole bending. Amanda placed fourth in the pole bending competition.

NHS scholars include 84

Twenty-seven juniors and thirty-one seniors were inducted into the National Honor Society for 1980. Seniors inducted needed a grade point average of 85, and juniors needed a grade point average of 90. Not only were they chosen for their grades but also for service, leadership and character. Val Jean Fountain served as NHS sponsor. Officers for the 1980 school year included President Brian Zimmerman; Vice President Casey Beasley; Secretary Ed Harrison; and Treasurer Mike Kocian.

Student Council stresses involvement

The Student Council's main goal for 1980 was involvement. The year began with the participation in the Jerry Lewis Telethon, making the club one of the three in the State in the fight against Muscular Distrophy. In November, the council sponsored a blood drive involving not only students but the faculty as well. The Student Council also distributed candy bars to the faculty at Christmas time. Christmas also meant some fun for members at the Christmas Party given at the Beasley Residence. In January, the council sponsored a spirit chain contest which was won by the Seniors. The annual Hearts & Flowers project was the clubs project for February. The club also sponsored the Crystal Ball, which was held in the cafetorium.

The Student Council sent delegates to district meetings in Eagle Pass, San Antonio, and Wimberly. The council also took part in the State Convention held in Austin. The club sponsored a seminar on how to create a better scrapbook. In the summer, the Council sent delegates to a leadership conference held at Trinity University in San Antonio.

Highsteppers for 1979-80 school year started their activities early in August. They practiced long hard hours every day, went door to door for money-making projects, and got familiar with wearing a wig. One of the major projects this year was a Christmas Review in which the drill team performed four routines. In January and February they competed in Austin and Dallas where they won three first ratings.

Band receives seventh Sweepstake

The 1979-80 Uvalde Coyote Band marching season began with many hours of hard work, but the results proved to bring much deserved recognition: a second place trophy at Westlake Marching Festival in Austin, and a first division rating at the University Interscholastic League contest in Hondo. The band was provided with new uniforms this year, lifting the spirit and the pride in the school. After marching season, individual band members began work on the music for district, region, and area bands. Twenty-two were selected to district, fifteen to region, and seven to all area band. In November, the band began work for the most important competition of the year, concert and sightreading contest in Fredericksburg. For the seventh straight year, they received a Sweepstakes trophy. The Band also won the first place trophy at Buccaneer Days in Corpus Christi.

Drama Club presents two plays

The Drama Club's fall production of Spoon River Anthology not only was performed at the high school, but also the cast presented it during the re-opening of the Opera House, the first performance in this State landmark since 1908. In the spring, the members chose Anne Boleyn for University Interscholastic League One-Act Play Contest held at Fredericksburg High School. Chosen to the All-Star Cast were seniors Pat Buesing and Matt Marsh. Of the twenty-seven club members, thirteen cast and crew members comprised Anne Boleyn. Director for the club was Miss Terri Spurgin.

The 1979-1980 Uvalde High School Fighting Coyotes.

Coyotes hold their own

When the Coyotes opened their 1979-1980 football season on September 7, against Pearsall, the Pack showed that off-season and summer's two-a-days were not only exhausting but were also rewarding by defeating the Mavericks 14-9.

The 18 Seniors of this year's varsity eagerly anticipated their encounter with Hondo, their long time rivals. For them, however, the Owls once again prevailed. The young seniors had never defeated their arch-rivals in all four years at UHS.

The Coyotes' next foe was the Del Rio Rams. Playing before a full house at the Rams' home stadium, the two teams battled through the first half. The second half proved to be much like the game against the Owls. This time, however, the Coyotes marched down the field and with a Frank Gonzales drive, scored the winning touchdown with just seconds left on the clock, and with a Todd Boales' extra point, the game ended 14-13, Uvalde.

The Pleasanton Eagles were the first district opponent for the Coyotes. Coming off with a narrow victory over the AAAA Rams, the Pack kept their winning ways with a 30-7 thrashing of the Eagles.

Coming home after two straight out of town games, the Coyotes tangled with the tough San Antonio Madison Mavericks. Battling the giant line of Madison, the Coyotes gave the Mavs all they could handle but came on the short end of the board, 20-6.

The Pack celebrated Homecoming by trouncing the Southwest Dragons 13-0. The Homecoming victory raised the Coyotes' record to four wins and two losses.

The Fredericksburg Billies took advantage of Uvalde's inability to move the ball and came up with a surprising upset, 21-0. The Coyotes could only manage a total of 17 yards on the ground.

Their last chance to defeat the Kerrville Antlers before they were moved to a new zone failed. Coyotes lost to their old nemesis 13-0.

The Coyotes got their act together and came out successful with two convincing victories to end their season with a 6-4 by defeating San Antonio West Campus 42-0 and Carrizo Springs 21-8.

Junior Varsity

The backbone for the success of the Varsity is the Junior Varsity. Much hard work and determination is what got Junior Varsity through the season after many of the best players were promoted to Varsity. Despite being outmanned at times, the Pack would come out on top of their opponents. With the help and coaching abilities of the coaches our Junior Varsity was a success. The Coyotes Junior Varsity wound up their season with a record of 7-3.

Freshmen

The 1979 Freshmen team was a big success as they finished their season with a record of 8-1-1. They showed that they can also represent their school as well as any other team. The first year Coyotes were led by coaches Lynn Neely and Greg Griffin.

Lobos reach zone playoffs

The Lobos worked hard this season and advanced to the zone playoffs against the Tivy Anterlettes. The team held a great competitive spirit and worked together throughout the season. All district players were named as follows: Ruthie Morris, Lisa Schaefer and Mary Goates. Honorable Mention players named were Shirley Hicks and Virginia Padilla. The 1979-1980 Lobos included Mary Goates, Ruthie Morris, Lisa Schaefer, Shirley Hicks, Virginia Padilla, Otilia Buantello, Suzanne Friend and Andrea Ramos. Their composite season record was 22-4.

Coach Nita Carter singlehandedly coached the Uvalde Lobos throughout the entire season.

Junior Varsity Volleyballers

The Junior Varsity team worked hard this season and the hard worked proved effective. Consisting of Freshmen, Sophomores, and Juniors, the team had a good season. The members of the Uvalde Lobos Junior Varsity should provide excellent varsity material.

79-80 Coyotes inspire a season to be remembered

The 1979-1980 U.H.S. cagers were the first in the school's history to gain state rankings. Playing in a very tough district which, at one time, had four teams ranked in the state's top ten, the Texas Coaches Association ranked the Coyotes number ten in the state, and the Fort Worth Star Telegram ranked the Coyotes team sixth in the state.

Coach Robert Capello's Coyotes again established a successful winning season with a record of 23 wins and seven losses. Included in these victories were two first place finishes in the Uvalde and Devine tournaments. The team also finished third in the Laredo United Tournament.

Several members of the Pack made all-tournament teams. Included in this list were David Holland, Todd Boales, Bobby Capello, and Robbie Fowler.

One of the biggest wins was the victory over South San West in San Antonio. Playing before a packed house of rowdy fans, the pack held off the highly touted Cougars to gain a tie for the first half zone title. The real excitement came toward the end of the game when an all-out fan-player brawl broke out because of a disgruntled Cougar.

The biggest game of the season was played in Antler Gym in Kerrville. Despite the inclement weather conditions, many Uvalde backers watched a most unusual game. The Pack's strategy for the contest was to stall the ball for long periods of time. At half time the two rivals managed to tally ten points apiece. The whole second half was played without a point being scored. So into overtime, the two teams went. In the only overtime, Tivy gained possession of the ball in a controversial call. With only three seconds remaining, All-state postman Gus Benson caught a full-court pass and scored on a "Hail-Mary" thirty foot turn-around jumper to claim a 12-10 victory over the pack.

The season ended with a routing of the Carrizo Springs Wildcats in Carrizo. Coach Capello's game plan was to run; and run is just what the Coyotes did. Playing stiff team defense and "runnin and gunnin" on offense, the Pack charged out ahead of the Wildcats to gain the season's finale by blitzing the Wildcats 70-34.

Other team members that have played a great part in making basketball respectable and successful at U.H.S. for both fans, (who consistently packed the gym), players and opponents were seniors Freddy Alejandro and Marcelino Romero, juniors Dwain Trevino and Oscar Orona, sophomore Scott Bagley, and freshman Ricky Capello.

Through much determination, pride, poise, patience, fundamentals, conditioning, teamwork and even those 6:00 A.M. practices this year's team members can clearly define the definition of success: peace of mind in knowing that they did their best possible at whatever they did, and will do.

Heading the Coyotes this season was Coach Robert Capello.

Junior Varsity "Hangs in there"

The 1979-1980 Junior Varsity squad completed the year with a successful record of 16 wins and 10 losses. Among the victories were wins in the Coyote Invitational and Southwest Texas Junior College tournaments. All tournament players from the Pack were Ricky Capello and Scott Bagley in the Southwest Texas Junior College Tournament.

Evidence of a good off-season program showed as the quality of play was improved over the past few years. The young Coyotes overcame many close games because of their ability to play as a team. Coached by Kyle Bolen, team members included Joaquin Jackson, James Gonzales, Travis Grigg, Alex Glores, Mundo Cordoza, Rocky Guerrero, and Ronnie Garza as guards. Postmen included Ruben Romero, Rod Welch, Sam Haughey, and Carlos Gonzales.

Fish show promising future

Led by a group of fine starters and having good depth, the U.H.S. fish roundballers wound up the season with an admirable record of 7 wins and 8 losses. Coach Greg Griffin felt the team gave a good all-out effort all season long, especially the last game of their season when they defeated the towering Southwest Dragons in their home gym.

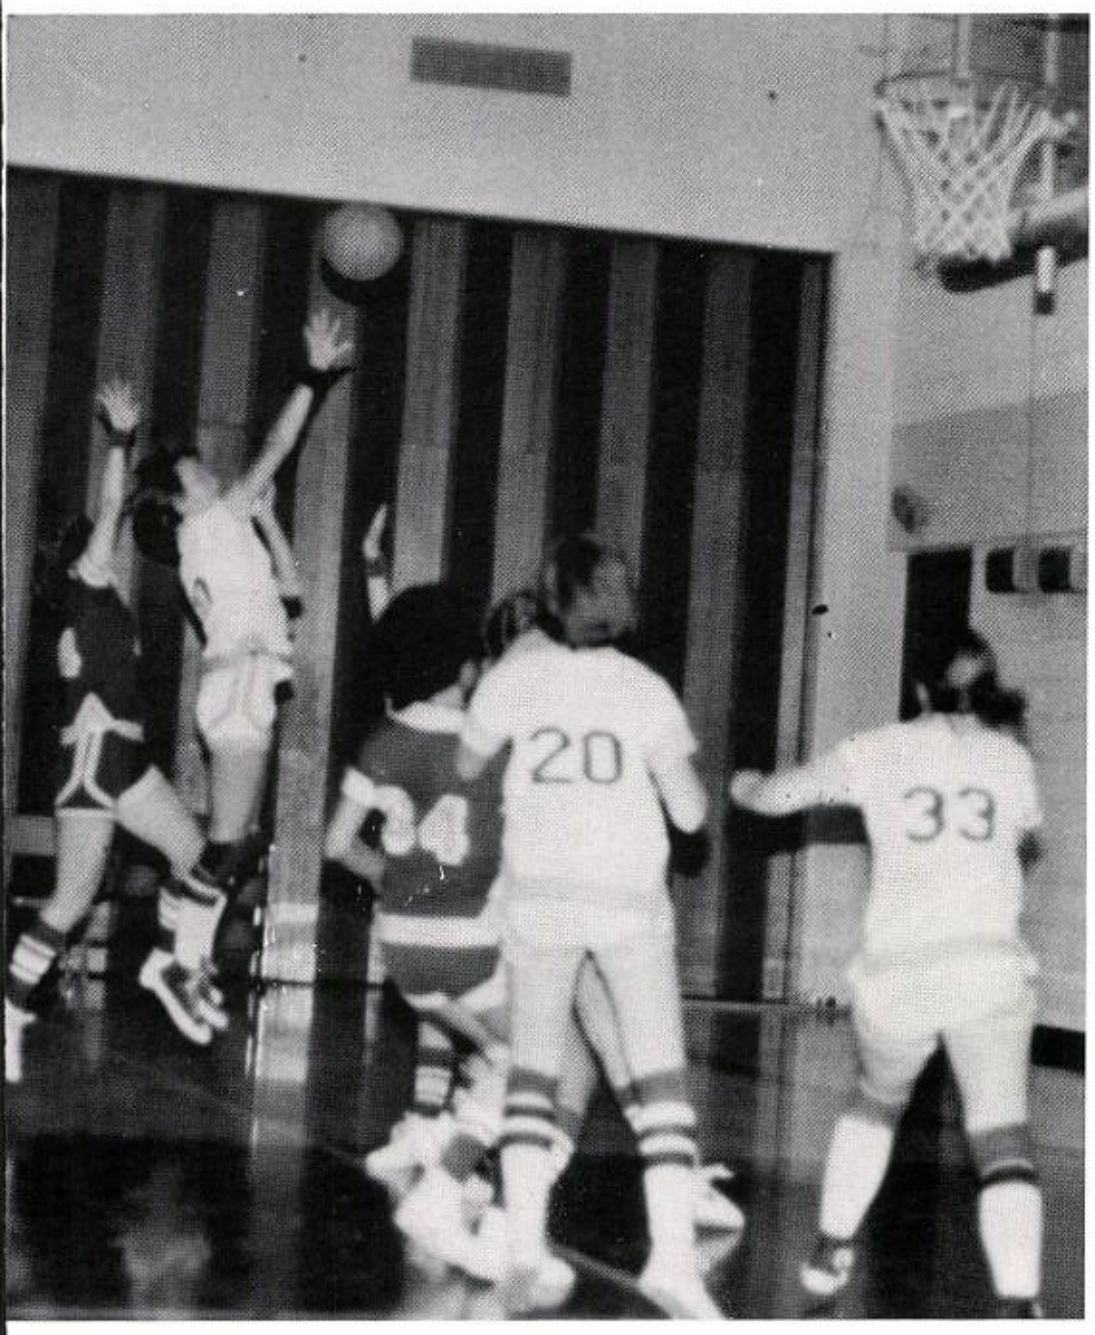
* Denotes District Games



This year's edition of Varsity Lobos basketball proved to be a good omen of things to come. With only three seniors, the team improved throughout the year, though their record might show the opposite. The starting five were made up of mostly underclass "women" who will help things out next year.

The Lobos opened the season with a rout over San Antonio Southside. The Lobos went on to score six straight victories before succumbing to Laredo Nixon in the finals of the Uvalde Invitational Tourney. The Lobos captured the championship trophy in the Rocksprings Tourney and then came home to claim victory in the Southwest Texas Junior College Tourney. All-Tourney players in the different tournaments included Rayann Shudde in Uvalde, Lisa Schaefer in Uvalde and Rocksprings, Shirley Hicks in Uvalde and S.W.T.J.C., and Virginia Padilla in S.W.T.J.C. Post Season honors were awarded to five members of the Lobo team. Making first team all district was Carrie Miller. Suzie Friend, Shirley Hicks and Rayann Shudde received Honorable mention all-district honors.

Coach Lynn Neely's Lobos finished the season with four district wins and six losses. For the season, the Lobos posted a respectable 16-10 record.

"Toughin" It out!

A number of athletes who practiced long and hard and spent many hours in preparation for the oncoming year were the Junior Varsity Lobos. This preparation is good not only for the season played this year but also for their years to come as varsity players.

They ended their '79-80 season with ten wins and nine losses. Team members included Cecilia Hinojosa, Sherlyn Crowsey, Marla Rose, Cheryl Tuckness, Liz Sanchez, Senovia Flores, Shirley Lee, Michael Morales, Mary Leonard, Rita Gomez, Jane Davenport, and Pam Green.

They were the Junior Varsity Lobos, and will give their all to make ready for future varsity ball. For them, this is the beginning of a stage—a period of determination, learning and also fun.

Golfers Tee off To regionals

Under the leadership of Athletic Director John Ferrara, Uvalde High School's golf team placed seventh at the regional tournament held April 24-25 in Corpus Christi. In compiling a team total of 853 points, Phillip Blevins led the local golfers with a total of 162 followed by Sophomore Jay Winn's total of 163.

In earlier tournament action, the Coyote golfers won second place in both the Hondo and Pleasanton meets, fourth place at Fredericksburg, third place at the local tournament, and was the only Class AAA team which competed in the 28-school, two-day tournament played at the Canyon Creek and Northern Hills Golf Courses.

Brock Walden received a second place medal in the Hondo and Pleasanton tourneys and third in the local tournament.

Returning for next year's team will be Brock Walden, Jay Winn, Phillip Blevins, and Barry Zimmermann.

A successful courtship

First-year Tennis Coach James Ward inherited dedicated netters who not only captured the runner-up trophy in both the varsity and junior varsity divisions of the district tournament in New Braunfels but also sent Will Shudde and Mary Rambie to the regional meet at Corpus Christi.

The year of the 'razzle-dazzle' Coyotes

The Coyotes wound up with a 15-10 season record and a District 13-AAA co-championship, but not before enduring a "razzle-dazzle" season, one which had good hitting and poor hitting, good pitching and poor pitching, and good defense and poor defense.

On a cold, windy day at Fort Duncan Park in Eagle Pass, Coach Jerry Lee's MEAN SIXTEEN MACHINE won a 6-1 decision over the Eagles. Three days later at Tom Bond Field, it was a complete turn around, as costly fielding errors resulted in the Eagles handing the Pack a 4-3 loss.

During the Uvalde Tournament, fielding miscues plagued the Coyotes, and the Hondo Owls and the Medina Valley Panthers pounded the Pack in the first two games. Vying for seventh place in their annual home tournament, the Coyotes edged Laredo United Longhorns, 3-2.

With a 2-4 record, the Pack entered the Eagle Pass Tournament as the defending champions. Winning their first two games, the Coyotes lost the championship game to the Del Rio Rams, 5-0.

According to first year mentor, Coach Lee, "the high point of the season was our performance in the Eagle Pass Tournament and the Medina Valley game following that tournament. I believe our performance at that time set the tone for the rest of the season."

Certainly his sentiments were correct, for the Coyotes continued game after game to score come-from-behind victories. The round-ballers entered District 13-AAA West Zone competition with a 5-5 season mark.

In the zone opener against the Pleasanton Eagles, the Coyotes were down 4-0 in the seventh inning before they scored five times to take a 5-4 victory. The Pack then edged the Southwest Dragons 2-1, and won a 7-2 decision over the Fredericksburg Billies on a cold, damp, foggy afternoon at Fredericksburg.

One of the big games of the first half season came when the Coyotes downed the Tivy Antlers in the Hill Country 1-0. The Pack then dropped a surprising 5-1 decision to the South San West Campus Cougars at San Antonio.

The Coyotes also came from behind to win a 12-9 victory over Carrizo Springs. By virtue of Southwest's upset over South San West that same afternoon, the Pack claimed the first half season title.

The Coyotes won their next three games and faced Tivy for a showdown rematch. Led by the pitching of Troy Marburger, the Antlers handed the Pack a 3-1 defeat.

In the zone playoffs, the Pack decimated the Antlers 5-0 in the first best two-of-three games. The reverse happened, however, when Tivy came to Tom Bond Field. Scoring nine runs in the first inning and one in the second, the Antlers had the game called in their favor during the fifth inning.

In the final, deciding game played at Medina Valley, Tivy again defeated the Coyotes by virtue of a homerun with bases loaded.

Smoke on the track and field

Led by a strong showing in the hurdles and the relay events, the Coyotes varsity claimed second place in their first meet at the Fredericksburg Relays.

Track Coach Frank Trevino's being pleased by their performance, especially "the performance of our hurdlers and the mile relay team," proved to be indicative of the team's season. The Pack's hurdles trio of Todd Boales, Sergio Guerrero, and Rod Welch finished one, two, and three in both the high and intermediate hurdles and gained 24 points in each event. Uvalde scored 103 overall points at their initial meet.

After the Pleasanton Relays, the tracksters captured second place in the Uvalde Relays. Kerrville Tivy won the varsity division with 178 points. The Coyotes won first place in the high jump, 110-meter high hurdles, 300-meter intermediate hurdles and the 1600-meter relay. Boales finished first in the high hurdles while Guerrero and Rod Welch finished second and third. In the 1600-meter relay, Tommy White, Bobby Ruiz, Boales and Guerrero set a new record with a time of 3:28.51. Overall, the Pack gained 107 points.

At the Class AAA Region IV meet in Corpus Christi's Buccaneer Stadium, Guerrero and Boales both qualified for the State meet. Guerrero beat out Belton's Ricky Sanders in the 330-yard intermediate hurdles with a time of 38.8 seconds. Sanders, however, nosed out Boales' for first place in the 120-yard high hurdles by two-tenths of a second; Boales' time was 15.1 seconds. Uvalde finished fifth in the team standings.

In Austin at Memorial Stadium, Guerrero placed fourth in the 300-meter intermediate hurdles. With a time of 38 seconds, Guerrero was only six-tenths of a second behind the first place finisher. Boales placed seventh in the 110-meter high hurdles. This was the second year for these two seniors to compete at the state meet.

Members of the 1979-80 varsity track team were Todd Boales, Sergio Guerrero, Tommy White, Bobby Ruiz, Robbie Fowler, Lorenzo Estrada, Hal Harrell, Scott Bagley, Lynn Walker, Travis Grigg, and Al Nelson.

Highlighting the Lobos' track season was their bringing home eleven trophies from the Fredericksburg Invitational Track Meet March 8th. Placing fourth with 66 points, the girls bested Comfort, San Antonio Southwest, San Antonio Southside, and Pleasanton.

Virginia Padilla, a consistent winner throughout the season, won first place in the 100-meter low hurdles and first place in the long jump. She also provided the Lobos a second place in the triple jump during the Uvalde Relays. Virginia represented Uvalde in regional competition at Corpus Christi Buccaneer Stadium.

Team members were Pam Green, Senovia Flores, Dee Dee Scott, Linda Gutierrez, Mary Leonard, Carol Alley, Sherri Price, Gwen Waggy, Michael Mireles, and Belinda Eaker.

In her second year as varsity track coach, Nita Carter was "particularly impressed with the girls' overall effort."

Pride revived in '80

The 225 member Senior class participated in various activities during their last year at UHS. They sold mums during Homecoming to contribute to their fund used to pay for graduation programs. Seniors also sponsored the Homecoming parade and they entered a float entitled "Snuff the Dragons". The class sponsors sold T-shirts with the names of the class members imprinted on them. Senior class sponsors for the 1979-1980 school year are Mrs. Anne Alejandro, Mrs. Betty Hilderbran, Mr. Bill Ed Kolinek, and Mrs. Linda Munson.

Officers lead money making projects

The Junior Class of 1980 had a very busy year. During the 1979 Homecoming activities, the Juniors decorated the Civic Center for the Homecoming Dance. The Junior Class also participated in the Homecoming Parade, by entering the award-winning float entitled "Juniors say 'Hustle Coyotes.' " As the year went on, the Juniors sold calendars and raised over $1,800. The money was used to finance the prom; Juniors chose "Heaven" as the theme.

The sophomore class of 1979-1980 has been one filled with many activities. Building the traditional bonfire highlighted their year. The sophomores collected boxes for two weeks, storing them in garages and secret hiding places. The building of the bonfire necessitated many of the sophomores to miss class. Other than participating in the various aspects of student life, many were also in varsity sports, an honor for any sophomore. Also, twelve sophomores were chosen to be servers at the Junior-Senior prom in May.

Freshmen discover high school i

Freshman officers for the 1979-1980 school year are: Cecilia Hinojosa, Tsr.; Dora Mireles, Sec.; Laura Romo, Vice Pres.; Janie Salazar, Pres.; Mary Emmert, Rep.; Mario Navarro, Rep.; Sarah Dubose, Rep.

The freshman class of 1979-1980 could be best described as a class of achievement. They had a very good football team, with some promising and outstanding athletes for the future. This year is one of excitement but also one of confusion. All freshmen have the decision to join the various clubs or not to. This decision is a hard one and often affects what the students do the rest of their high school years. To increase the class treasure, the freshmen had a Sloppy Joe booth at the Halloween Carnival. They cleared eighty-three dollars for their class. The freshmen also prepared the dais for the Homecoming royalty.

Reflections . . .

Volume sixty-seven of the Uvalde High School Coyote was published by Henington Publishing Company in Wolfe City. Representative from Henington was Mr. John Sandidge. A total of 680 copies were printed.

Consisting of six major sections, the Coyote reflected the many people and their activities during the close of one decade and the opening of another.

The editors sincerely wish that in looking through the 1980 Coyote, you find it an accurate portrayal of the different experiences and events which occurred at this high school. If you can find yourself in these pages, then the 1980 Coyote has accomplished its purpose.

The yearbook staff wishes to extend special thanks to Mrs. Kathryn Hornby, Jr., Editor and Publisher of The Uvalde Leader News, Eddie Kirkham, James Volz, Margaret Rambie, Sue Jones, Doris Perkins, Ed Haby, and Dan Chaney who, without their help, the annual could not have survived.

Despite the numerous problems in publishing this yearbook, we hope you enjoy looking through it as much as we enjoyed working on it.

MICHELL CARTER AND JEFF PERKINS,
June, 1980

They, for two decades, had endured,
Had matured and fostered dreams,
Only to have their Creator reclaim
His creations.
Only we can prognosticate their productivity during the eighties.
Yet their memories remain in our hearts and shall for many decades more.
